

disease.

B. C. Phipps has disposed of his elevator at Mose to Hans Aarrestad, the general merchant at that point, who will have charge of same in the future. Bert will remain a resident of our city and devote his time to looking after farming interests in this locality.—McHenry Tribune.