

A deal was made this week through the Binford Realty company, whereby Henry Rix of Litton, Iowa, became the owner of the E. R. Purinton farm. The consideration paid was in the neighborhood of $16,000. The sons of Mr. Rix, Charles and Ed, will farm the land. They will not take possession until some time in the winter. Mr. Purinton will have an auction sale of his personal property on Thursday, Oct. 20th. He will leave on Monday for Canada to look after business, but is undecided as to where he will spend the winter. The Times knows that it voices the sentiment of the whole community when we say we regret the leave-taking of Mr and Mrs. Purinton. They are held in high regard by their neighbors and friends in the country as well as their many friends in town. Wherever they cast their lot, the wishes for happiness and prosperity of a whole community will go with them.
