

Service on rural route number three started last Friday with J. D. Reid as carrier. The route is to serve 73 patrons but not all of the farmers have as yet put up their mail boxes. This is something they should attend to at once. Enough farmers live on the route and as soon as it is patronized properly, just so much sooner will daily service be put on.