

Times gentle reminder to pay up.

Wm. Robertson was laid up for a few days last week with an injured shoulder. Bill has been employed on the Widlund threshing rig this fall, and one evening when he was going up in the hayloft of the Widlund barn, he stepped into one of hay shutes. As he did so, his arm struck the wall with such force that the shoulder was wrenched quite badly.