

Another Test of Sutton Water.

According to the Sutton Reporter the people of that town feel that they did not get a fair show in the recent examination of water from wells there, and they claim that the village has been getting a lot of undesirable advertising in the newspapers in this section as a result. The Times was one of the papers that commented on the water situation in Sutton, basing our conclusions, of course, on report made by Dr. Brimi. There is absolutely no desire on our part to do our neighbor village any injustice in this matter, but we took it for granted that the report as published in the Reporter was correct—and perhaps it is. Another supply of water has been sent to the state university at Grand Forks to be analyzed and if this analysis proves favorable The Times will be pleased to make a correction.
