

---

A. M. Swenson left last week for Fergus Falls, where we understand he may decide to locate in the near future, though his intentions are not fully settled yet. If he does make the change, his son, Gus, will have charge of the blacksmith shop here. The Swensons are an estimable family and Binford will regret their departure, if it comes to that.