

his illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tweed have the sympathy of the whole community over the loss of their four-year-old son, Leonard, who met with such an unnatural death last Sunday. The little one had been playing on the roof of a low barn, from which he fell onto a hay rack in such a way that his head caught between the boards with his body suspended, death being caused by strangulation.

A. C. Coister went to Carrington