

some nearby town very soon.

Ludvig Amundson and wife started on an automobile journey to Fargo, last Thursday, and when nearing Casselton, a heavy rainstorm came up, compelling them to abandon their trip via auto. They took the train from there to Fargo. They returned home Tuesday morning, but had considerable difficulty, owing to muddy roads between Casselton and Page.