

Enthusiastic Meeting Held.

The Non-partisan League held a large and very enthusiastic meeting here Tuesday. A. E. Bowen, socialist candidate for governor two years ago, was the speaker, and he gave a resume of what the League had done and outlined some of the purposes for which it stands. Mr. Bowen is a good talker and certainly can keep his hearers interested. The League has a membership of nearly 40,000 and the work of organization is not yet completed. There isn't a doubt but what the League will be a big factor in the campaigns this year, and if the members stick and vote for the League candidates, there will be many changes in the law-making body of North Dakota. The League will hold conventions in every township in the state on Tuesday, Feb. 22. At this convention a delegate will be elected to a legislative convention, and later a committee to a state convention
