

The rural carriers are complaining that some of their patrons along the routes are neglectful in keeping the roads to their mail boxes open. The Binford carriers have been very prompt in delivering their mail this winter, considering the cold and stormy weather, and we think the least you can do in the way of assisting them is to keep at least that part of the road leading to the boxes open.