

On the trip.

A serious accident was the result of a boyish prank played in school yesterday forenoon by Raymond Gorthy. He stretched a wire across the aisle by his seat telling the children he meant to trip the teacher. Instead, Pearl Peterson was the unfortunate one. While walking up the aisle she tripped over the wire, fell on her left arm, and broke the two bones between the wrist and elbow. She was hurried to Dr. Truscott's office where the broken arm was set. Pearl will be laid up for several days while the broken bones mend, but may be able to return to school again next week.

The Times has sent out statements