Political Announcements

I am again a candidate for election to the office of county auditor. I am now serving my second term. During my incumbency I have endeavored to give good and impartial service, and to guard the county's interest economically and otherwise. I wish to thank the people of the county for their suffrage in the past and to assure them that I will appreciate their votes at the coming election, Nov. 7.

Respectfully,
H. S. Rearick.

JESSIE NEWS.

Mrs. Sam Dubil and Mrs. Jennie Inches were Binford visitors Saturday between trains.

Glen Anderson bid the bunch goodbye on Saturday and is now grinding at the knowledge factory in Fargo.

Services were conducted by Rev. Klidon at the Catholic church Sunday. There was a large crowd in attendance.

Miss Edna Haugen will attend school at Fargo during the winter months. She will be missed by her many friends.

Mrs. Inches, of the hotel, entertained Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Dalton and family and Mrs. Wm. Trost at Sunday evening supper.

Albert Rickford and Jake Pella were visitors on Thursday last at Cooperstown going down in Albert's auto. They report an enjoyable visit.

A. M. Sioulin of Aneta and N. O. Haugen of McHenry, were transacting business in Jessie last Saturday evening. Mr. Sioulin says "Aneta is all there."

The Misses Martha and Tracy Clemens spent the past week with their friends and relatives at McHenry, returning Saturday. It was an enjoyable week for all.

And now for the black dirt. Every acre turned over this fall is just so much crop assurance for 1917. May we have many thousand prepared before the freezeup.

One of our farmer friends has found that such little things as live batteries, gasoline and plugs are as necessary as wind. Carl Lepper will verify the above statement.

L. and Frieda Tetzlaff who have been visiting with the Adolph Arndt family for some time left Monday for their home at Grand Rapids, this state. They will visit for a few days at Fargo.

Fred Rathke took it to heart so much that his goose was "honey" that he said goodbye on Saturday and is now hunting ducks and trouting "somewhere in Iowa." But he'll come back again.

These nice days are being used all that is possible by the barn builders. The Hovel barn is now nearly all under cover; Simon Jensen says he will get some sleep when his is done, and Charlie Bechels is spreading the paint on the Ed Fiebigler structure.

Mrs. Otto Ketzlaff received a telegram from her old home in Canada, conveying the sad news of the death of her father. In company with her uncle, Dave Wilcox, she left on yesterday's train for Marmore, Ontario, to be present at the funeral. We extend condolences.

Lost—by Ed Ingals, a bundle of blankets, pillows and other articles of value, on the road from Edwin Thorn's farm to about 6 miles south of Jessie on the Cooperstown road. This was lost about Oct. 1st or 2nd. Please notify Ed Thorn or McIntosh at Rogney's Hardware.

Maynard Tweed, who has been getting a good coat of tan and a pair of muscles that he need not be ashamed of this summer, has gone back to his studies at the Augsburg Seminary at St. Paul. He left on Monday and carries with him the best wishes of a host of friends.

O. M. Rogney motored to Lakota Sunday afternoon and took the G. N. from there to Minot and the Soo to Kermit. Driving nearly all day Monday and riding back again to Jessie by train and auto arriving on Tuesday afternoon, is in his estimation going some. Says he felt tired. Queer, isn't it.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tollefson wanted to go for a drive Sunday so patronized the Red Sentry and as the roads were good and the Ford responded royally to the lever they were soon on their way. Before long they were in Wimbledon, in time for a square meal. They returned Monday.

Harold Dalton met with an accident Sunday evening which may prove to be of a serious nature. He was playing on a hay stack at Jack Ressler's and fell injuring his arm. He was taken to Dr. Truscott at Binford for an examination. Later he was taken to Fargo for an X-Ray examination. As yet they cannot tell just what the result will be.

The correspondent of the Sentinel-Courier has proven himself to be a good scout. After having his "stuff" all written up he allowed the east bound flyer to whiz by without it. So in the evening he hitched up his benzine buggy and with Fred Rule and Happy Kvam he hied himself to Cooperstown. Jimmie is built like some of his lumber, on the square.

When Rev. Stinson stepped to the platform on Sunday for the services he faced the largest audience that has attended since he took charge of the work. And the sermon was one of power and encouragement to all who were there. Mrs. Stinson accompanied him and they were entertained at the Graham McCulloch home. The next meeting will be held Sunday, Oct. 22, after his return from the conference at Jamestown.
