

JESSIE NEWS.

Mac says, "I like Jessie." That's not suprising, Mac. We knew you would.

Oscar Rognev drew his director salary Tuesday. This accounts for the smile which won't come off.

There was a large attendance at the Catholic Church last Sunday. It would have been much larger but for bad roads.

Some of our young men met last Sunday eve at the home of Albert Rickford. An enjoyable time was the result. Come again fellows.

Louie Rude was a caller in Binford Wednesday, on implement business. Louie says business is good. It has become a habit with Louie to be busy.

The next time our boys go skating they will be equipped with water wings and bathing suits. Oliver says the cold water baths are just splendid.

Oli agrees with Harry Lauder who says "It's nice to get up at four or five or six o'clock. But it is nicer to lie in your bed. "Ye ken." Yep, so say we all.

The farmers around here are anxious to begin their spring work. Would like the smell of fresh earth again. Does seem a long time since we saw the green.

Jimmie Strand is having a hard time keeping his lumber piles from floating off. But with the aid of the bunch it is hoped he will still do business at the old stand.

The Farmers Elevator has had a Fosston grain cleaning machine installed. As a result Otto is about as busy as a young father with a colicky baby at 3:00 a. m. and the fire out.

A number of improvements are planned for our town this spring. Sidewalks will lead the procession and will add greatly to the value as well as to the appearance of the property.

Are you a booster?

For your town?

For your township?

For your county?

For your state?

It pays to boost.

Art Olson who went to Van Hook says in a letter to the bunch. "I am getting acquainted here now and am going to like it better. But Art's thots will not stay put. He still likes our little town. Somehow they all do.

There is little doubt but what spring is at hand. Not only the meadow lark, wild goose, duck, etc., but the boys big and little are out on the street swatting flys (great game that). A baseball club will materialize in the near future unless all signs fail.

The past week was a busy one for some of the Jessie people. Early in the week a number of the young men began planning for a Booster sidewalk basket party. Bulletins were posted in the various places of business and changed daily. Saturday eve the event was in full swing.

The program opened with a brief announcement of the Booster's Plan by A. F. McIntosh followed by the sale of the baskets which proved to be a lively event, over sixty dollars being raised. Hot coffee was served with the lunch and was enjoyed by all.

An old fashioned spell down was next in order. Sides were chosen by the captains, Robert Thorn and Oli Lybeck. An aluminum coffee percolator was offered as a prize by O. M. Rognev for the man or woman and Hulbert's Story of the Bible by the Sunday School superintendent for the school scholar. Miss Westley won the percolator and Gladys Haugen the book. After the spell down a number of the older people left leaving the floor to those who enjoy the pleasures of the two step. Apparently everybody, his wife and sweetheart had a good time. Plans are being made for another event in the near future. Hovel's Hall was used for the occasion.
