JESSIE NEWS.

Has anyone here seen Jimmie? He's looking for his tire caps.

John Hovel and Gus Suess have finished their work on the Ed Fiebigger barn.

Mrs. Inches and Miss Strand were shopping at Binford between trains Saturday.

Rev. Stinson will conduct services in the schoolhouse at 3:30, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Fred Tollefson left Saturday for a short visit with her sister at Wimbledon.

Max Wild paid Jessie a hurried call on Sunday and returned Monday to his home.

Miss Ella Thorn returned Wednesday from an extended visit at Amhurst, Wisconsin.

Julius Wurst says he has the best baby in the county, bar none. Now call his bluff, somebody.

Florence and Gladys Hougen are home once more having attended the Lutheran summer school at Binford.

Harry St. John drove his new Hupmobile in company with N. O. Hougen, to McHenry and Aneta on Monday evening.

W. H. Marks and wife motored from Jamestown to Jessie by way of Carrington, Monday. They will make but a brief stay.

Miss Christine Hovel is assisting Rev. Grenier at the Catholic church in preparing the children for the Holy Communion which will be observed Aug 13.

Miss Margeret Hanson and Miss Cora Peterson who have been visiting with the O. L. Anderson family, for several weeks left Monday for their home in St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman McCulloch autoed to Revere Sunday to visit friends, returning in the evening. The roads were good and with an ideal day made a pleasant trip.

Fred Luwert, of the German Lutheran Seminary at Phalen Park, in St. Paul, conducted services at the Wm. Arndt school last Sunday. He was entertained at the Chas. Arndt home.

Olaf Johnson left Monday for St. Lukes hospital at Fargo, where he will undergo treatments for three weeks. It is hoped that he will be materially benefitted during his stay there.

Miss Ebba Strand, of Bathgate, is visiting her brother, Jim, for a short time, having arrived here Wednesday. She is being entertained during her stay by the O. E. Thorn family.

The Jessie base ball club lost to McHenry last Sunday. Ehlers and Olson were the battery for the locals with Lee and Deidrich for the Macs. A return game will be played here next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. McCollm returned from a visit to Fargo where they had taken in the fair. A. V. says it was the best ever, especially the live stock, and that the grand stand events were without doubt the equal to any put on anywhere.

Albert and Fred Rickford, with their sisters, Elizabeth and Anne, motored to Cooperstown Tuesday to attend the celebration, but owing to the severe rain of Monday the event was necessarily postponed.

The Norman and Graham McCulloch families motored to Cooperstown Thursday for a visit with some friends there. Norman says waiting for a small part for a car is no joke, especially when you can't get next to the why.

Last Thursday Griggs county bid farewell to three prominent citizens for a brief period. They were Jacob Pella, Albert Rickford and J. Dahl, who left on the flier for points in Montana. Here's hoping the gentlemen enjoy a pleasant vacation.

Adolph Arndt blew into Jessie Wednesday forenoon with a smile that would make the Quaker Oats people wild with envy—and he had good cause for his joyousness. The stork presented his wife with a fine baby girl. We all join in extending congratulations.

Mrs. Fiebell, an old time resident of east of Kloten, was buried last Wednesday, the services being held from the Kloten Lutheran church. Among those attending from this vicinity were Mr. and Mrs. Nels Halvorson, Mrs. Anna Lotvedt, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Thorn.

There was a very large representation of Jessie families at Red Willow lake on Sunday. A number of informal picnic parties was the result. Swimming was the principal enjoyment. Judging from reports, the lake air is responsible for greatly increased appetites.

Edwin Thorn bought two more pure bred Holstein cows to add to the herd he is building up. They were purchased at McHenry. He believes in pure bred stock as a money maker and the experience of others in the same line proves that it is a paying proposition.

Louis Ruud and Tollef Tweed tried to prove that two men could occupy the same space at the same time last Saturday evening, on the grade north of town. As a result Louis took Tollef home in his combination jitney and left the Tweed car in the ditch till Sunday morning.

W. J. Dalton and family started out early Sunday morning for a trip by Ford to Sanborn. But when Leal was reached they found that there had been a slight shower so concluded that they didn't care to go anyway, and gracefully returned home again. Who said sour grapes?

There was an enjoyable gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Trost, the occasion being the birthday of their daughter, Sophie. The guests were Fred Nurenberg and wife; Harry Husel and wife, Fred Duwert of St. Paul, and R. F. McIntosh. Full justice was done to the heavily laden tables.

The Farmers elevator has been repairing the roofing which was damaged in a wind storm several weeks ago. Two men, who make such work a profession, came along and Manager Retzlaff engaged them. It was sure some sight to see the men at work on the cupalo with their ropes and ladders, apparently at home as tho they were on what Mrs. Mulligan calls, "Terrible Fermy."

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bach of Amidon arrived last Thursday for a visit with friends and acquaintances. They left their home on July 10th, and drove their auto through Bismarck and then by the Red Trail. Part of their trip was spent at Red Willow with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Rogney. They left Wednesday for Pelican Rapids, Minnesota, stopping enroute at Casselton with Mr. Bachs parents. The entire trip will cover about 600 miles.

W. E. Wilkinson and Gus Pella left on Tuesday by auto for a trip to Richland county. When they reached Fargo they found that the roads were not of the best, and owing to the fact that the car was not equipped as a motor boat they decided that the train was the better proposition, which under the circumstances was good judgment. After a trip to Wyndmere and Lisbon, they returned to Fargo and took in the live stock exhibit and came home Saturday.

Jessie is building a new sidewalk from Mark's store to where it will meet with the N. P. right of way. When completed it will be possible for pedestrians to come up town without an accumulation of Jessie real estate on which no taxes are levied. The work is progressing rapidly under the direction of the supervising architect, E. A. Retzlaff, assisted by his able helpers, Harvey Larson and Otto Retzlaff. The oversight of the work is being looked after by the Jessie residents. It is expected that the N. P. Ry. Co. will build their part in a short time, at least, here's hoping.

There sure was a big bunch at the barn dance given by Louie Trostad, in his new barn on Saturday evening. It was considered one of the best events of the present season. The orchestra was composed of Miss Ethel LaPlant, Mrs. Lars Anderson, Gus Suess, Ben Arneson and O. M. Rogney. Refreshments were served at about midnight. Dancing continued until an early hour. It is estimated that there were over one hundred and fifty guests present. The chores were being done when some of the people arrived at their homes. Emil says that "riding on a flat" is better than walking. Jim can't understand why his Ford got balky and threw a shoe. Everybody had a good time.
