

JESSIE NEWS.

"Rah for thanksgiving day.
D. A. Goplin was a Jessie visitor, Saturday.

O. M. Rogney drove to Lakota on Sunday afternoon and was the guest of Senator Gronna, returning on Monday.

Wm. LeBraux, of Marshall, has been in town for a few days looking after land interests. Says he likes our town.

Phil Plumleigh of Hartington, Nebr., arrived on Tuesday and will spend a few weeks with his sister, Mrs. Fred Rule.

The turkey fest at the pool hall was sure well attended. One party had to borrow a barrel to carry his share of the spoils, while all some had is a memory.

There's always something doing in Jessie. The above has often been quoted but never with a greater reason than on Monday when it was necessary to have a hay rack haul the mail from the east up from the depot. For proof of this ask Jimmie.

A letter received from Rev. Stinson says he likes Wildrose very much, and wants to be remembered to all friends. Sunday School is nearing the 100 mark.

Business is good in Jessie so much so that the housewives say that the men folks can't get away to dine on time. Just what plans are on foot is not disclosed at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Tollefson, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Rogney and W. H. Marks were Cooperstown visitors Saturday evening and took in the Charlie Chaplin laughs—and they were many.

The Hermerlin school pupils, their parents and friends, and the teacher, Bertha Skofstad, are now enjoying their new organ, which was installed on Saturday last. Accept our hearty wishes.

Our landlady's dog tried to dispute the right-of-way with Graham McCulloch's auto. The result is, he knows better now. He didn't know he was being treated in a "Regal" manner.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman McCulloch and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Dahl spent Sunday in the south part of the county and in the evening heard Rev. Bennett at the M. E. church in Cooperstown.

W. H. Marks of Jamestown drove over on Friday and left on Monday. On Sunday in company with Fred and Mrs. Tollefson they autoed to Aneta making the return trip in about 45 minutes. The colonel is getting his Ford so it minds him now when he says "whoa."

Guy Trostad met with a painful though not serious accident at the Thorn feed mill on Monday. The belt came off the engine and caught Guy a rap across the face that made him see a thousand stars. His foot was also hurt. Robert Thorn took him at once to Dr. Truscott, and every one is glad it was no worse.

There was a jolly bunch gathered at the Julius Haugen home on Sunday evening. A loaded table was dealt with somewhat severely and music and songs made the time fly. Those present were: Misses Hilda Gerda, and Agnes Watne, Bertha Skofstad, Alfred and Thor Tweed, A. Overby, R. F. McIntosh and G. Grove.

Louie Ruud is thankful that he has a hospital for cripples of his own. He has been a busy boy helping others and he recently had an experience which won't be forgotten. In the goodness of his big heart he was helping out a fellow sufferer and as a result found that while the heart was willing, the body was not—at least the car would have said so could it have spoken. Louie's well known modesty forbids him telling whom he helped.

There was a splendid attendance at the service in the school house on Sunday afternoon. Rev. James Anderson of Fargo and Rev. Bennett accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Barke drove up from Cooperstown.

Rev. Anderson preached a powerful sermon on the "Rebuilding of Jerusalem." He is the district superintendent of the M. E. church for the Fargo district. Rev. Bennett will preach again on Sunday Dec. 10th and every two weeks following.

There were many heavy hearts in Jessie and vicinity when it was learned that the second boy of Louis Trostad had been instantly killed in an accident on Monday evening. It seems that the lad, in company with one of the hired men, was returning from Aneta. Being late, Louis thought to meet them and find out why the delay. Meeting with them on the big hill near the river, the boy apparently went to turn out of the road and in the dark misjudged the distance. The wagon with a tank of gasoline, on which he was sitting, upset, throwing him directly on his head. His neck was broken and death must have been instantaneous. Mrs. Trostad had left on the afternoon train with her daughter for Fargo for medical treatment. As quickly as possible, Mr. Trostad started to drive to Fargo, and they returned home again on Tuesday forenoon. The funeral services will be held from the home on Friday at 1 o'clock p. m. and at the West Prairie Lutheran church at about 2:30 or soon after. Mr. and Mrs. Trostad have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in this, their hour of deep sorrow.

JESSIE SCHOOL NOTES.

Hurrah for Thanksgiving vacation.

Mrs. Wm. Trost and son, Bernard, visited school one day this week.

We were all very sorry to learn that Evangeline would have to give up school for some time, owing to her ill health.

The Christmas program is progressing very nicely and we are planning on giving it Friday evening, December 22.

Those neither absent nor tardy for the week ending Nov. 24 were: Harold Dalton, Muriel Thorn, Irving Thorn, Laurence Ressler, Anton Becherl, George Rule, Vivian, Cleona and Helen Retzlaff, Gerald Rickford, Reynold Hovel, Julia Erikson, Joseph Erikson, Mary, Emma, Bertha, Augusta and Martha Wurst, George McCulloch, Irene Ressler, Florence and Gladys Hogan.—Arthur K. Olson.

ADDIE SCHOOL NOTES

A new pupil, Marie Braaten, enrolled Monday.

The eighth grade has been studying Whittier's "For An Autumn Festival."

A new organ was installed last Friday, and singing has now an added pleasure.

The sewing class was again organized last week and its members are busy making work bags.

Mornings are growing colder. The sun rises later, as a result we notice a tendency toward tardiness, and we do dislike tardy marks.

Those who have been neither absent nor tardy this last month are: Alma and Mabel Hanstad, Marget Hegwik, Agnes and Ernest Watne, Hugo and Mathilda Flebiger. Jennie and Myrtle Olson have been absent one half day.—Bertha Skofstad, teacher.
