

H. J. Maurer received the bad news last Saturday that his mother, who resides at Jamestown, had fallen and broken her hip. Just a year ago she broke her other hip and had been laid up nearly the whole year as a result. She is now being cared for at the hospital.