A new musical organization deserving of mention is the new orchestra which made its bow to the public recently. The organization has been under the tutelage of Prof. Bagley and is a credit to his teachings. These comprising the new organization: Reuben Brown, violin; Arthur Haugen, piano; Ole Brodshaug, cornet; Emil Saint, trombone. Each member is exceptionally good at his instrument and the whole makes most complete harmony. McHenry is usually blessed with real musical talent and its citizens are justly proud of the fact. We predict that the new orchestra will receive its just support.—McHenry Tribune.
