

Mrs. J. R. Truscott and children returned yesterday from Mose where they had been visiting at the Barney Vogen home. While there, young Donald had the misfortune to fall through the hay chute while playing in the barn, and broke his arm.