—Quite a serious accident befell Mrs. H. H. Wasem on Tuesday afternoon. While she and her son Charlie were out sleighriding the horse was driven up the side of a snow drift, with the result of upsetting the sleigh, throwing both occupants out, the sleigh striking her in the back. Mrs. Wasem in falling struck her head against a post, stunning her quite severely. She was able, however, to get into the home of Mrs. Elliott shortly afterward, but was immediately taken ill and had eight hard spasms during the afternoon. She is now improving, but is still quite weak and sore.
