

We are expecting to be called upon to write an obituary for, and attend the funeral of, one or more of our larger boys, who persist in the practice of riding out on the passenger and jumping off when the train gets out a half mile or more. This is a silly, foolhardy practice, and should be stopped by the authorities if the boys in question haven't sense enough to stop it themselves.

We are in the hope that the boys who