

606," quite remarkably, indeed, considering the length of the piece, and little Mary Helen Cassel very sweetly and modestly told "The First Christmas Story." The twelve little girls, all in white and with strings of bells fastened to their dresses, carried thru the "Christmas Bell Drill and Star Song" without a hitch. What a deal of work and patience must have gone into the preparation of that drill, with its changes and poses! Certainly it was very pretty to watch.

The program committee, consisting of Miss Mielke, Mrs. F. W. Ehred, Mrs. M. B. Cassell, Mrs. Gene Williams and Miss Julia Larson deserve great credit for the work they put into this entertainment and should have every reason to feel satisfied with the results.

Christmas Wedding.

At high noon Christmas day the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Tillotson, in this city, was the scene of a quiet family wedding when Mrs. Tillotson's sister, Marilla Dayhuff became the bride of Joseph C. Unkenholz.

The bride is well known in this community having formerly resided here. The groom is a well-to-do farmer and ranchman from near Mandan, where he is well liked and highly respected on account of his sterling qualities and good habits.

The happy couple departed yesterday for a short stay in Minneapolis after which they will visit a sister of the groom in the northern part of this state. Later they plan to visit the Pacific coast.

Friends here join in extending congratulations and best wishes.

Beer Stolen

During the past two or three weeks G. N. Agent Fick has missed a number of cases of beer from the waiting room, where it is kept during the cold weather, and as a consequence a little detective work was done. Last Friday Iver and Ole Elvrum were arrested and taken before Judge Washburn. The men both plead guilty to the charge. Judge Washburn imposed a fine of $25 or 14 days in jail. The men were unable to pay the fine and are now serving time in the Hillsboro jail.
