

The Colgate Literary and Debating Society held its third meeting last Tuesday eve. Nearly one hundred listened to an interesting literary and musical programme before recess and a lively debate afterwards, discussing the question; Resolved: That the present jury system should be abolished. Messers Jas. Hart, Morris and Seth Curry Sr. on the affirmative and Messers Redger, Vance and Mrs. Austin on the negative. The judges deciding in favor of the negative. The question for two weeks hence (Jan. 28) will be resolved, that the Labor unions are a greater detriment to our nation than the trusts, an interesting debate is expected, everybody cordially invited.