

KELLEY--HACKETT.

Wednesday, October 28, at high noon was solemnized the marriage of Miss Loucile Hackett, of Arthur, N. Dak., and John Charles Kelley, of East Liverpool, Ohio, the ceremony taking place at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. O. H. Fellows of Prairie Ronde.

The immediate families of the bride and groom and a few relatives were present. Rev. Clinton Barnhart of Climax performed the marriage ceremony, and it was he who thirty-six years ago married in the same room the bride's father and mother. Samuel Larkin of East Liverpool officiated as best man, the bride was attended by her mother as matron of honor. She was given away by her father. Yellow and white chrysanthemums and autumn leaves were the decorations. The bride was gowned in white satin with veil and carried lilies of the valley. Covering her veil was a wreath of orange blossoms worn by her mother at her marriage and the same was arranged before a glass that had often reflected the face of her great grandmother. The wedding march was played upon the instrument upon which the bride's mother took her first music lessons. The home where the wedding took place was the home of her great grandfather and was built by her grandfather, Samuel Hackett.

Guests present from abroad were: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Vodrey, Samuel B. Larkins, East Liverpool, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Kelly, Cleveland, Ohio; Miss Mary L. Harris, Pontiac, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Hackett, Arthur, N. Dakota; B. E. Andrews and E. H. Andrews, Three Rivers.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelley will reside at East Liverpool, Ohio, and will be at home, 507 College street, after taking a month's wedding trip.—Schoolcraft (Mich.) Express.

Miss Hackett, it will be remembered, was a teacher in our public schools two or three years ago.
