

Bob Kingsley is Dead

All the early residents in this part of the state remember Bob Kingsley, who was a Great Northern conductor on the Portland and Mayville branch of the Great Northern many years. He died Friday in Minneapolis and was buried Sunday at Cedar Rapids, Ia.

About a dozen years ago Mr. Kingsley quit the Great Northern service at Casselton and removed to Minneapolis. He was a veteran of the civil war, unmarried, a Knight Templar in the Fargo Commandery and a member of the Casselton lodge of Knights of Pythias. — Fargo Forum.
