

Another fuel train of twenty-one cars was sent up the branch last Friday night. Two cars of lignite and three of wood were left here the rest being sent to points north, mostly for Binford and McHenry. These towns are in pretty good shape now for a time. Cooperstown is pretty short of coal but if the fine weather continues we shall undoubtedly get plenty of it before long.