

Martin Rossing, a man working for Jim Hill, met with an unfortunate accident Monday morning. He was trying to put on an engine belt out at the farm and not understanding how to slip the belt on when the engine was running with the result that he had one arm and two ribs broken as well as getting a severe gash on the head. Dr. Brimi was phoned for and went out and fixed him up. He will be laid up for at least two months.