

—We were informed, this morning, that one of Mr Wallace's hired men, Mr Ole Bottman, was struck by lightning and instantly killed, yesterday afternoon, while hoeing potatoes. Further particulars we are unable to give at this writing.