

POISON WHISKEY.

That's what it is now claimed to be that caused the deaths of the Mayvillites. There are six dead already as follows:

Martin Holje, Anton S. Kolberg, Louis Johnson, Olaus Olson and Charles Kejus, Lewis Bye.

It appears that Olaus Olson, known as "Trapper Olson" made a substitute for whiskey from alcohol, water, fuel oil, tobacco and other unknown ingredients to give the concoction the appearance of whiskey. Olson drank some of his own Nectar and he now dwells in the region of shadows in the land of oblivion.
