

Two boys near Hunter, sons of John Petit, age 18 and 16, went during the big blizzard, to the school house, a half mile distant, to build a fire. Upon returning home they lost their way and perished.