

Two Made Happy.

A decidedly pretty wedding was that of Miss Elsie K. Brown daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Brown, and Chase S. Cassell, says last Friday's Minneapolis Tribune, which was solemnized last evening at the home of the bride's parents, 2008 Hennepin avenue.

At 6 o'clock the wedding march was sounded by Miss Jennie Vaughan, who gave an appropriate program of music during the evening. The bride was attended by Miss Hazel J. K. Brown, maid of honor; Miss Nellie Kenney, the bridesmaid, and a little flower girl, Miss Dorothy Johnson, niece of the bride. John D. Thompson, of Indianapolis, was best man. The service was read by Rev. Alexandria McGregor. The bride was beautifully gowned in white mull over cream taffeta, with deep plaited flounces elaborately trimmed with chiffon. There was a fichu falling to the bottom of the skirt, which was en traine. Miss Brown wore a veil, and carried bride roses. Her sister, Miss Hazel, wore pink mousseline de sole, trimmed with pink satin ribbon. The bridesmaid's gown was a dainty affair of white organdie, and she carried pink sweet peas. Little Dorothy Johnson was a pretty picture in pink dimity with pink roses.

The second parlor, where the vows were spoken, was converted into a greenery, with palms and ferns, making it a very attractive spot. Tinted candles gave a subdued, soft light. The parlors were decorated in palms and monstrous pink peonies. Vases of these gorgeous flowers bloomed at frequent intervals. The two rooms were divided by a curtain of smilax. The dining room was decorated in Green and white. Here white peonies were used, and strings of smilax were suspended from the chandelier. The hall was a bower of green, with an immense sword-fern as the central figure.

The 75 guests were received after the ceremony by Mr. and Mrs. James P. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson. Those present from abroad were Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Cassell, the Misses Cassell, of Clifford, N. D.; John D. Thompson, Indianapolis; Mrs. Martha E. Latta, Battle Creek, Mich.; Miss Sell, Ontario, Cal.; S. B. McBeath, Stillwater. Mr. and Mrs. Cassell will take a trip to Chicago and Indiana, via the lakes, and will reside in Sherbrooke, N. D., the home of the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Cassell's large circle of Steele county friends will receive them with the glad hand, and the usual well wishes are extended by all of us.
