

Saturday evening the boys rang the bell and ran out the fire engine just to see how 'twould work. After washing Shippy's front windows they run her in feeling that a big job had been accomplished. The first practice was pronounced a success.