

Wm. White, of Aneta, was a north bound passenger on Monday's train, enroute home on the sad errand of bringing the body of his dead wife home for interment. She died in the hospital at St. Paul last Friday, shortly after an operation. Mrs. White has been broken in health for a number of years and the end came at last. The funeral was held at Aneta yesterday.

Dr. M. C. Johnston, formerly