

Matt Baker Injured

It seems that every issue of the Pioneer is compelled to chronicle an accident to some resident of Hope or its vicinity. Matt Baker is the latest victim. While driving to town last Friday with a load of flax he fell in front of one of the wheels which passed over his foot, crushing it badly and breaking the big toe at the first joint.

Mr. Baker had been walking beside the wagon and attempted to climb on to the load while the team was in motion but slipped and fell in front of wheel and before he could get out of the way it had passed over his foot.
