

---

Fred Fuller met with an accident last Monday which came near costing his life. He was in the act of leading a cow and his feet became entangled in the rope and was thrown in such a manner as to strike on his head. He was unconscious when picked up and for awhile his case looked most critical, but at this writing his condition is much improved.

---