

Both Wrists Broken

Will Gilmore, while assisting in building a granary on his farm southwest of town, fell from the scaffolding breaking the bone of both wrists. It was a most peculiar accident and how he could fall and break both wrists without otherwise maiming himself is a mystery. Dr. Hedding was called and set the broken bones and at last report he was getting along as well as could be expected.
