

The Hope Concert Band gave a fine concert on the street last night. The boys are coming right to the front for a newly organized band and judging from the class of music handed out last night the Hope band will not have to take a back seat for the best of 'em inside of six months. A weekly concert on the street will be greatly appreciated.