
Mr. Flett, a representative of the Minneapolis Treshing Machine Co. and who was steering the engine at the time of the accident which befell D. W. Vadnie last Friday, circulated a paper around town that afternoon and in a very few hours raised something over $230. for Mr. Vadnie. The generosity of the citizens of Hope has never been found wanting when it comes to anything of this kind. As Mr. Flett was heard to remark: "I never saw a lot of fellows put their hands down in their trousers and pull out the fives as willingly as the citizens of Hope did today—the purse far exceeds anything I ever dreamed of."
