

The oldest inhabitant is now standing around telling about what a bad winter we had in 1896. We were here then and fifteen years ahead of that, but we have never seen a winter that can come within gun shot of this one. The entire banana crop of this state is ruined.