

Mr. and Mrs. Peder Winger certainly have the sympathy of this entire community and all acquaintances, but it is not possible to express it to them personally at the present time—on account of the quarantine laws. Last Thursday night their daughter, Alla, 7 years of age last February, died of scarlet fever, and Tuesday night of this week Ermon, a son who would be 9 years of age next month, also passed to that great beyond.—Alliance.

The many Cooperstown friends of Mr. Winger sympathize with himself and family in their bereavement.
