

Ed. Blocker died at McHenry last Monday morning at 3 a. m. from typhoid fever. He had been sick about six weeks. The deceased is a son of our former townsman, J. P. Blocker. He was a popular young man and many friends at Cooperstown regret to hear of his demise. The remains were bought to this place for interment.