

School Items.

A night class has been instituted, for the benefit of those who desire to try for certificates the coming spring.

The school board have ordered a brand new book case for the new library. Thanks are hereby extended for same.

Washington's bir'hday was observed as a legal holiday, by the entire school. Memorial exercises were held by the pupils in the upper department.

Newton Doyle returned to school Tuesday after an absence of one week, occasioned by the illness of his sister. Among others absent, who have returned this week are, Jennie VanDusen, Grace Gray, Robert Gray and Allen Lossing.

Chas. Wheeler and Robert Gray made a desperate to float the flag from the school house Monday, but their efforts were of no avail, the pulley at the top of the flagstaff being too small for the rope, but we shall soon have it arranged so that the stars and stripes can be flying to the breeze when occasion demands.

The school extends thanks to The Hope Pioneer for valvable service rendered our library entertainment and for space each week for our school items. These items are a benefit to the whole school, and afford much learning to its editors. It will be our aim hereafter, to gather all the news possible for this column.
