

Laor King received sad news, last Saturday calling him to Oshkosh, Wis., saying that his son was sick; but before Mr. King could get ready to go, word was received announcing his death. Mr. King did not go. The sympathy of the many friends of the King household go out to them in this hour of sad bereavement.

It snows and it blows and it stings