

Obituary.

DIED: At her home in Riverside, on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, Katherine Jane Erickson Stewart, second daughter of Angus and Marguart Paterson Stewart. Deceased was in her 21st year. Her illness began with an attack of influenza, in March last, from which she never recovered.

That dreaded disease, consumption, claimed her as a victim. Death came to her as sleep to a tired child. Peacefully, smilingly, she fell asleep—the sleep that knows no waking.

Besides the many friends left to mourn her early death, she leaves a father,

(Rev. Henry Duran.)

The funeral occurred on Friday morning, after a short service conducted by Rev. Johnson, of Cooperstown, at the home. The remains were taken to the Hope cemetery for interment; followed by a large concourse of people.

"Oft we have mingled together,
Sometimes in prayer and song;
Now when we meet, this one we'll greet
Never again in our throng."

"Sweetly the form will be sleeping
Under the prairie sod;
Sad tho' we be; fondly will we
Ere long cherish the name of the dead."
