

SCHOOL NOTES.

Victor Dingle was absent for several days last week on account of toothache.

Mr. McPherson did not have very good luck with his horticultural experiment—his fern froze.

The second meeting of the High School Literary Society will be held next Wednesday afternoon at 2:45. The following program will be given:

Song.....By School
Review of Memory Gems

Recitation.....Maude Larimore

Essay.....Ethel Stansbury

Debate, "Resolved That, the Young Man of today has a better chance to make life a success than his Fore-fathers had."

Affirmative: Howard Boise, Ezra Stiles and Richard Palfrey.

Negative, Ella Nelson, Eldora Doyle and Jennie Taplin,

Recitation.....Victor Dingle

Reading.....Frank Gilmore

Instrumental.....Edna Gray

Reading.....Frank Moote

Song.....By School

Jessie Pressly succeeded in spelling down the Grammar room, a week ago last Friday.

The third month of school ends next Wednesday.

The usual studies were dispensed with last Friday afternoon after recess in the High School and the time was spent in giving conundrums, questions, etc, and ended in an old fashioned spelling match.

Those desiring books from the library should remember that the library nights are Tuesdays and Fridays, and that then and then only, can books be taken out or returned. Jennie Taplin is librarian and Eunice Jacobson assistant.

Zella Jacobson spelled down Miss Curtis' room last Friday afternoon.

Visitors at the Literary exercises a week ago Friday were: Mrses Shippy, Palfrey, Day, Huff and Woodworth. In the debate on "Resolved that Women be Admitted to Suffrage," the affirmative side, composed of Hettie Amsdell and Eunice Jacobson, won over Howard Boise and Harry Dingle on the negative side. The judges were Mrs. Huff, Mrs. Woodworth and Ruby Danforth.

New pupils in the High school are Ezra Stiles, Richard Palfrey, Charles Bogart and Ethel Stansbury. These raise the attendance in the High School to 23.

The boys in the Intermediate room have quite an incentive to good behavior, as Mr. McPherson has promised to take the best three boys to Fargo with him at Christmas.

The Intermediate room will give a social at the town hall next Saturday evening. Admission 25c. Everybody invited,

Helen Baker is absent from the Primary department on account of sickness.

Eva Dingle brought a Chinese shoe to school last week, which interested the children very much.