

Miss Hawkins, of the Crows Dramatic Co. was united in marriage to Mr. Albert Tracey, a traveling man, on Friday, Mch. 27th at Sherbrooke. The contracting parties thought they would fool the balance of the company by keeping it a secret until evening. Shortly after noon they procured a team and drove to Sherbrooke, returning about five o'clock, but the company was on, and in the mean time organized a brass band? and met the happy pair on their arrival in town and escorted them up the street to the tune of "hot time" and it certainly was a hot time for the newly wed couple for about two hours. The company banqueted at the Palace restaurant after the evening performance.
