

While at Hunter last week Joe. McCarty was taken with a very severe attack of pleura-dynia which prevented his playing and very near resulted fatally. He was treated by the Hunter doctor who alleviated his pain and succeeded in pulling him out of danger. He returned via Casselton not being able to endure the ride across country, and left Tuesday evening for his old home in S. D. for a short vacation.