

Master Bert Milligan while playing after dark Monday evening in some way ran into a barbed wire fence striking him just above the eyes cutting two deep flesh wounds. Had the wire struck an inch lower it would have hit him in the eyes.