

While in the pasture last week looking at his stock Andrew Morgan was kicked by one of the horses sustaining a fracture of the arm and some severe bruises on the shoulder. It was a very close call as a few inches either way would probably have resulted fatally.