

Telephone Extension.

The new telephone line to Goose lake is now under construction. A force of fifteen men is at work extending the line at the rate of about two miles per day. When this is completed a line will be run west to the river and one northwest to the L. K. Myers farm. A line will also be run out into the Broadlawn country, thus giving us rural phone connection with nearly all the surrounding country. A full metallic line will also be put in from Hope to Casselton, giving us the best connections with the outside world that we have ever had.
