

Orlo Wakeman barely escaped what might have been a serious accident Tuesday. While mowing in the yard he stepped ahead of the team to remove some obstruction when the team became frightened—and ran away and Orlo barely escaped being struck by the cutter bar.